WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY
WINCHESTER, MASS.

Preface

During the last one hundred years much water has flowed over the Mill Pond dam, and many students have passed through the halls of Winchester High School in their quest for knowledge. The Aberjona River's course has changed, as has the High School's. But neither has changed its goal, one to reach the sea, the other to provide educational opportunities to growing Winchester generations.

It is with great hope and deep humility that we, the Winchester High School Seniors of 1950, leave our venerable guide and step out to face the future.

Dedication

THE WINCHESTER SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

You have joined forces to place the opportunity for higher education within the grasp of all of us. With the deepest gratitude and appreciation, we say . . .

Thank you

FACULTY

All approved accounts of happy school days should contain references to a loving faculty, by whose unselfish efforts the errant schoolboy is turned into a responsible citizen. Even without this tradition the class of 1950 could hardly overlook the patient patrons of the pedagogic profession who have done so much to fill WHS with a host of wonderful memories. With a vote of thanks for a job well done . . . vos salutamus!

Below: Dr. Forbes Norris
and Mr. Wade Grindle.

Dr. Alley—"A wise old owl lived in an oak . . ."

Mrs. Travis—Cold cream and liver-worts.

Mr. Hayward—"Oh, so you don't think!"

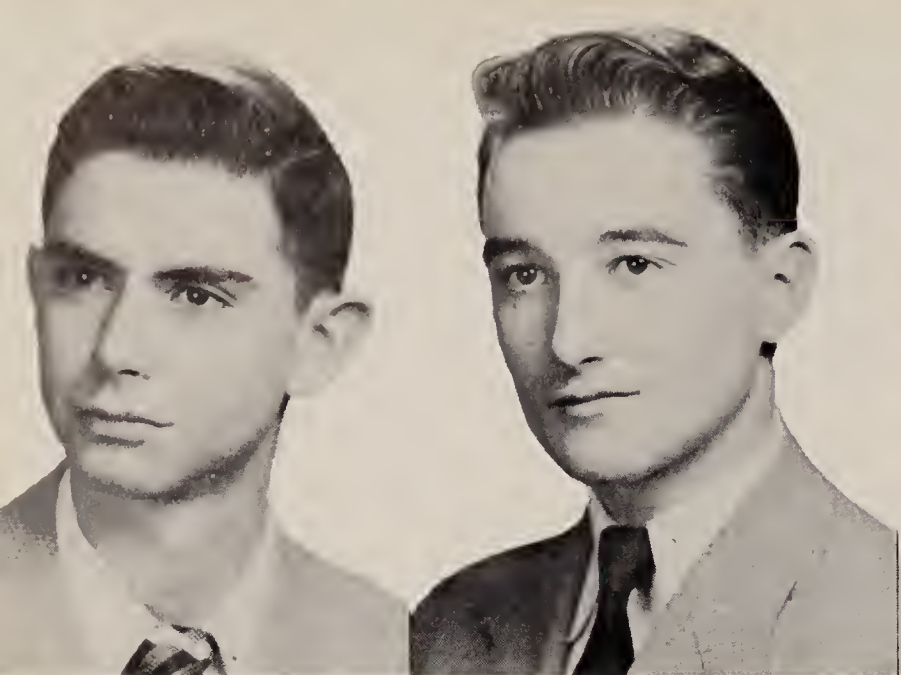

Miss Bailey—Words fail us.

Don't push . . . Oops . . .
Timber!

Burp!!!

Et tu Brute?

We, the Class of 1950, being of sound mind and body, do hereby ordain this to be our last will and testament. We charge our said beneficiaries to execute to the fullest the bequests bestowed upon them.

CLASS WILL

I, Marcia Kraft, will my poise and dramatic talents to Felicia Mezzacappa.

To the junior class do I, Dennis Sanford, finally bequeath my Phyl.

Having finally built a heavenly physique, I, Major Daniels, leave it to Dud Samoiloff.

I, Joan Wolsey, leave to Louise Kugler my paper-doll collection knowing she will use it to the best of her ability.

I, Marilyn Chase, leave my sundry Amazonian ways to any 25 junior girls of promising prowess.

To Rickey Ives do I, Bob Walsh, will my sparkling Pepsodent smile.

Having fought the battle of "Silas Marner", we intellectual seniors bequeath Mr. Hayward to the innocent Sophomores.

I, Dave Hutchins, leave my gridiron success to Dom Suppa.

I, Elliott Hersey do hereby leave my infinite knowledge of Bobby Burns to "Tex" Keeney's discretion.

Having inspired many a sheep to greater things, I, Pat McDermott, will my sweaters to June Ryan.

I, Doris Casey, leave my boundless energy to Jean Farquhar.

We, Paul Amico and Elmira Baldacci, leave, knowing no one can take our place.

I, Walter Murphy, leave my high hoop rating to the envious underclassmen.

We, Mildred True and Jim Daschbach, leave, as we have progressed, on tip-toe.

We, the weebegone Seniors leave the building to the termites — if they'll have it!

I, Peter Millett, leave my back stage throne to my heir, one Bob Loftus.

I, Sue Graves, leave my effervescent vivaciousness to my namesake, Sue Ordway.

I, Betsey Morton, leave with my infectious laugh still intact.

I, Benson Snyder, will my "flash bulb" to Dick Singer.

We, Louise Freeman and Miriam Parker, leave with other members of the W.H.S. Brain Trust.

We, Kenny Blake and Fisher Wolfe, leave flying cinders to John Foley and Buzzy Bird.

I, Sergei Sorokin, leave my executive abilities to Dave Archibald.

I, Joe Green, leave my absence slips to the incinerator.

I, Marge Wyman, gleefully leave my carbon copies to Mr. Stevens.

I, Dan Devlin, bequeath my way with women to Sandy Burbank.

We, Sally Morgan and Doreen Stowe, bequeath our well of dry wit to Audrey Elliott and Jane Chiswell.

To millionaire John Borden do I, penniless Bruce McGovern, will the Thrift Association.

I, John Rocray, leave the cafeteria to the din of future generations.

I, Betsy Hooper, leave my amazing Spanish fluency to Bette Kneeland.

I, John Power, leave my sterno-temper to Earl Carrier.

I, George Tansey, bequeath my timid and mouse-like ways to Paul McGowan.

I, Leon Fernandez, leave my array of gaudy ties to Jack Mills.

I, Barbara Michelsen, leave, protozoa and amoeba in hand, my infinitesimal knowledge of biology to the sophomore class.

I, Dick Matthews, leave Mrs. Demsey with fond recollections.

I, Betsey Chilcott, leave the Greeks to Greece, the Romans to Rome, and Latin to Mr. Skerry.

I, Dick Joslin, leave my command of the French language to Mrs. Burns for distribution among needy underclassmen.

We, Sue Halloran and Fay Carroll, leave our red locks to Carolyn Edgar.

To Dick Errico do I, Don Miller, will my harmonious sax.

I, Pris, leave the Symmes tradition to brother Stowell to carry on in true family style.

I, Bette Fitzgerald, will my command of the Library to Claire DeLay.

I, Dave Shiverick, bequeath my pop guns to Eddie Cullen.

And I, Rhoda Sabbow, leave!

The will being signed, sealed and delivered to us as a solemn charge, we, the executors, do hereby affix our signatures on the eleventh day of April, nineteen hundred fifty.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year the Student Council prospered under Bob Walsh, President; John Richmond, Vice-President; Phyllis O'Neil, Secretary; Marjorie Carroll, Treasurer; and Mr. Cooper, Faculty Adviser. They, together with home room representatives from the Wadleigh and high school buildings, sponsored many activities such as the successful sale of decals honoring the Sachem, newly acquired symbol of WHS, and the Valentine Dance, which had the enthusiastic backing of the student body. Phyllis O'Neil, Marjorie Carroll, Dudley Samoiloff, and Paul Boyle were sent as WHS representatives to the Eastern Massachusetts Student Council at Melrose, and the Winchester representatives to the State Legislature were chosen as a result of the council's planning.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Scholarship, leadership, service, and character—these are the qualifications which have made students eligible for membership in the Aberjona Chapter of the National Honor Society. Now in its fourth year here, the society is practically a toddler as compared to centenarian WHS. In accordance with provisions in the constitution, about fifteen per cent of the senior class and five per cent of the juniors were chosen this year. Students and faculty participated in the election of outstanding juniors and seniors to the honor. Then new members were inducted into the society at an assembly held this spring by those seniors already in the organization. Officers for this year, chosen after several ballots, are, President, Miriam Parker; Vice-President, Elmira Baldacci; and Secretary-Treasurer, David Holdsworth. The signatures of Mr. Robert Keeney and Miss Helen Bronson decorated the membership certificates.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Encouraging their classmates to give the little that helps a lot, the members of the Junior Red Cross have again reflected credit upon their school by conducting each of their several drives with efficiency. Campaigns for members, clothing, Christmas cards, and comic books all received generous support from all classes, with every student joining the organization and helping to oversubscribe every drive. Other activities included the task of folding Christmas seals to be mailed to Winchester residents and the filling of a chest constructed by members of the shop class. This year's President was Marjorie Carroll, with Elmira Baldacci, Vice-President; Marjorie Zinn, Secretary; David Shiverick, Treasurer; John Mills, Publicity Chairman; Joan Wolsey, Art Chairman; and Phyllis O'Neil, Production Chairman. Miss Bronson undertook the headaches that belong to a faculty adviser. A bouquet also goes to Miss Goodrich, for her wholehearted co-operation.

THRIFT CLUB

Once again, the Thrift Association has gone through another year of banking with a record of not less than 99% each week. This year, for the first time in several, the officers and bankers of the association succeeded in obtaining a 100% record several times during the year. To faculty director Ella M. Stacy goes much credit for the success. On Tuesday mornings, President Bruce McGovern hurried up the homeroom banking in the main building, while John Borden and Doug Hawkins went down to the Wadleigh to help solve freshman problems. The results were brought to Room 13, center of banking activity, and were tabulated by Secretary Pat McDermott and assistants Bette Fitzgerald, Harris MacDonald, and Franceline Cullen. Goal of the organization is to establish the habit of saving regularly, which is a useful one to acquire.

Originality plus has been the keynote of this year's Aberjona, and a busy staff has tried to achieve the unusual in the yearbook. This laudable goal was also applied to publicity for this local best seller. "Buy your Aberjona!" was impressed upon the student body through unique posters, plus singing commercials to usher in "A" Day. While the business staff pounded the pavement selling ads, the editorial staff sweated ink to produce the novel in write-ups for activities, athletics, and senior section. "Candid, not canned!" was the motto of the shutterbugs on the staff, and these film fanatics spent many an hour tracking down effective action shots to liven up pages of posed pictures. One of the newest additions to the Aberjona was Mr. Ulin, whose tactful talent for letting the seniors make their own mistakes made him a general favorite with the Steering Committee and members of the staff.

RED and BLACK

Carrying on in the best traditions of the newspaper, the '50 and '51 Red and Black staffs added many refinements to the publication as the year rolled along. After having captured a first prize award in the Boston Globe's annual high school publications competition and having set a new record for continuance in office, the seniors turned the task of gathering news over to the fresh-from-the-textbook junior journalists, who were ready to seize the reins in January. To keep the paper solvent, to slave for hours to beat the deadline, to arrange proof on dummies so that the resulting page is not entirely repugnant, and to market the finished product—these are routine matters to these veterans. Notable among the innovations made in the paper by the two staffs were changes in the type faces, introduction of a column of news briefs giving better coverage to school events, adoption of a new nameplate, removal of column rules, more widespread use of photographs and cartoons, and boxing of advertisements. Whether denouncing the voracity of pencil sharpeners or selling copies at the newsstands, those who did participate in the Red and Black found in the activity something really worthwhile.

QUILL & SCROLL

Late in the spring of 1949 the Quill and Scroll, an international honor society for high school journalists, was established at Winchester High School. All juniors and seniors, who, besides standing in the upper third of their class, have done outstanding work on the staffs of the school publications, the Aberjona and The Red and Black, are eligible for membership. New members are chosen at the close of the school year. Although the society itself may be active, thus far the local chapter has been purely honorary.

NATIONAL THESPIANS

As an added stimulus to the theater-minded at WHS, the National Thespian Society gives recognition to those Dramatic Club members who prove outstanding in acting and other branches of the dramatic art. The Winchester chapter is inactive as a group; but its members can hardly be called slackers. Each must have contributed at least one hundred hours of work as an actor, stage hand, script writer, or member of the many committees necessary for every dramatic production.

DRAMA CLUB

Recognized as the largest club in the school, the Dramatic Club has this year joined with the Radio Workshop and the National Thespian Society under the tireless direction of Mr. Thomas A. Morse. The major production of the year was Mother Was A Freshman, the Junior-Senior Class Play. WHS was represented at the State Drama Festival by a talented team which presented the one-act play Four Hundred Nights. Dramatic Club meetings took the form of private assemblies at which club business was conducted and informative talks were presented by speakers connected with radio and drama.

ORCHESTRA

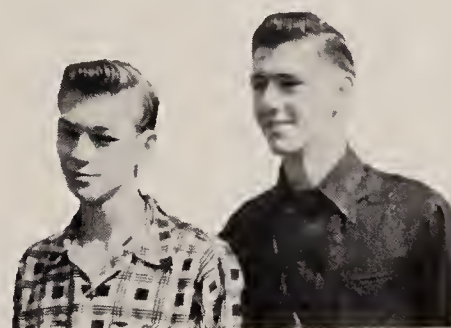

First Row, Left to Right: C. Padelford, W. Wood, A. Barbaro, F. Felmet, R. Loftus, C. Whiting, E. York; Second Row: R. Halm, D. Miller, K. Blake, D. Holdsworth, D. Nason, E. Tarr, J. Moore, S. Smith; Third Row: J. Macaulay, K. James, R. Traut, M. Parker, M. Smith, C. Swonger.

With no appearances scheduled for the first part of the year, the orchestra played many pieces for its own pleasure and for the valuable experience of sight-reading. In January, rehearsals were started for the orchestra's participation in the class play, the spring concert, and the State Music Festival. Still somewhat hampered by the lack of strings, the orchestra was limited in the choice of music. In spite of the handicap the group experimented with different types of music by playing two Mozart concertos in addition to selections from "Show Boat," Brahms' 7th and 8th Hungarian Dances, and other pieces. Five members of the orchestra enjoyed the experience of playing in the Massachusetts All-State High School Orchestra. Officers for the year were: President, Dave Holdsworth; Vice President, Eddie Hammond; and Secretary, Annette Barbaro.

BAND

The band went right to work in the fall preparing for football games, under the direction of Mr. Fred Felmet. The spiral, "School Daze," "The Showoff and His Funeral," and the Thanksgiving Fantasy maneuvers kept the crowds entertained at half-time. In November rehearsals began for the spring concert, an assembly program, and the State Music Festival. The band tried to please every taste in music. In addition to marches and popular numbers, such pieces as the overture to the "Student Prince" and "The Crusaders' Overture" were played. Numbers like "Cracker Jacks," a cornet trio, and "Them Basses," featuring the new bass section, gave the various sections of the band a chance to show their ability. With more experience, new instruments, and better balance, the band has steadily improved, and can easily boast of this year as the best yet. The officers this year were, President, Douglas Nason; Vice-President, David Shiverick; Secretary-Treasurer, Eddie Hammond.

These two musical organizations, both directed by Miss Eleanor Anifantis, have been particularly active this year, giving polished performances before such audiences as the Winchester Chapter of Red Cross, the Old People's Home, the Guild of the Infant Savior, the High School Parents and Faculty Association, the Home

Guild of the First Congregational Church, and many others. They have also participated in assemblies, the centennial celebration, the All-State Chorus, the Vaudeville, and the Spring Concert. This year's officers have been Dorothy Brandt, President; Joanne Tofuri, Vice-President; and Margaret Reid, Secretary and Accompanist.

The high spot of the year for the Boys' and Mixed Glee Clubs was their performance in the WHS production of H. M. S. Pinafore. The operetta kept both groups very busy throughout the fall season, but the singers found the work rewarding in that the proceeds of the operetta went towards the purchase of choir robes. These clubs sang at the Christmas assembly and at the annual spring concert. Also, on April 1, selected members took part in the All-State Orchestra and Chorus concert at Jordan Hall, where they joined 150 students from various parts of Massachusetts. This year the choral groups were officered by President Henry Hooper; Vice-President Edgar Hammond; and Accompanist Donald MacFeeley for the boys' club and by President Richard Riga; Vice-President Phyllis O'Neil; and Accompanist Cornelia Post for the mixed group. Miss Anifantis directed.

SCIENCE CLUB

In addition to acquiring knowledge, the members of the Science Club had the pleasure of participating in an organization in which no rules or precedents existed. Meetings, conducted in modified parliamentary fashion, were presided over by Sergei Sorokin, while Ruth Halm assisted as Vice-President, Miriam Parker pushed a pen as Secretary, and Richard Joslin took charge of the treasury. Dr. Otis E. Alley offered sage counsel to the club's executives. In addition to monthly demonstrations on varied subjects, the club sponsored a trip to nearby centers of scientific interest. Entertaining programs were planned by the administrative officers, together with Executive Board members Louise Freeman, Tom Joy, Franceline Cullen, and Edward Jones. As the months passed, the business of making Winchester High School's "oldest and richest" club function smoothly became easier; and meetings took on a more educational aspect, with the result that those in attendance found the programs well worth their attention.

MATH CLUB

A successful year for the Math Club was started with a class in determinants taught by President David Holdsworth. This was one of a series of instructive meetings held throughout the year. Such a program was the result of a poll taken in the group which disclosed that students wished to spend time learning advanced methods which might be of help to them in future years, but which could not be included in the regular mathematics courses. The usual program of math puzzles for fun was discarded in favor of this more worthwhile project. One interesting activity which was enjoyed by all participants was an originals contest for sophomores. The season was closed with a social gathering at the home of Mr. Arthur E. Butters, Faculty Adviser. Despite the late start and the small membership, a great deal was accomplished; and it can only be hoped that succeeding years will prove as profitable.

THE CLUB CERVANTES

The Club Cervantes completed another successful season under the guidance of Mr. David F. Kotkov and President Patricia McDermott. The club is purely honorary; only those who receive an A or B grade in Spanish may participate actively in it. This year Eleanor McPeake served as Secretary, while Marcia Kraft filled the post of Treasurer. Enlivening the season were three meetings, at which Spanish games, songs, and movies were enjoyed in addition to tasty home made refreshments. The annual banquet and cook-out were held in February and May, respectively. At the former, delicious food and authentic Spanish entertainment made a big hit. The cook-out, at which Pat McDermott acted as hostess, was a great success, food being one of the main attractions.

LIBRARY CLUB

"The true University of these days is a collection of books." And so, our library may be considered a "true university." The members of the Library Club helped to make it so. Each member of the club willingly gave up one study period each week for one quarter of the school year to help with the great amount of work to be done in the library. When the need arose, the members took the place of Miss Livingstone in keeping charge of the library. Many of the meetings took the form of discussions of current books. Socially active, the Library Club had two enjoyable parties during the year. Under the leadership of President Margaret Mahoney, the club went on several trips, including excursions to the Charlestown State Prison, the Cambridge Jail and House of Correction, and the Billerica House of Correction. Margaret Mahoney had for her assisting officers Shirley Roberts, Vice-President, and Claire DeLay, Secretary. The accomplishments of the club members throughout the year are proof of the great interest and training the Library Club offers.

Keeping pace with the continually changing tempo of world affairs, the Philosophy Club established itself as a clearing house for the questions and answers of its members on every conceivable subject, from euthanasia to Communism. The discussions were both intelligent and vehement. Upon certain occasions a controversial topic produced such a heated debate that Mr. Skerry, acting as arbiter aequissime, has found it necessary to call for a quick change of subject. The Great Pacifier has been aided by the officers of this outspoken organization, Bob Loftus, President; Margaret Mahoney, Vice President; and Joan Salmon, Secretary. Stimulated by these sessions, the members found themselves acquiring new views and a broader picture of current events.

The Music Appreciation Club, founded in the fall of 1948 by Benson Snyder, class of '50, and sponsored by Mr. Fred Felmet, has finally made itself felt as a true Winchester High School activity. As the name implies, the club's purpose is to stimulate interest in good music. Members need have no further qualifications than a keen enjoyment of music. The meetings of this group have taken place, for the most part, in the homes of members. There, recordings were played, interspersed with little talks on composers, compositions, and musical theory. In addition, club members invited several prominent music commentators to spring meetings at the school.

The Rifle Club is an active organization of about thirty boys and girls who have assembled to learn how to shoot, improve their marksmanship, and to have a good time. The club's adviser, Mr. Carl E. Reed, has devoted much time to it, has been patient with beginners, and has helped many attain their National Rifle Association awards. The rifle range in the basement of the Winchester Star Building is used by members. Each year the club has been able to purchase new equipment; and this year being no exception, two new target rifles were added. In addition, it is expected that two new shooting jackets will find their way into the club's storeroom before the year is over.

The rifle teams had interesting and successful matches with teams from nearby high schools. The girls' team, captained by Mary Merrow, shot only in the prone position and showed great improvement this year. The boys' team, led by Dave Shiverick, equaled, if it did not surpass, riflery teams of previous years. Although these teams, which practice once a week, competed with teams which shoot daily, the Winchester High riflers won well over half of their matches.

Special Events

Another year, another vaudeville show! With many new acts as well as old standbys in this year's show, it has been as successful as ever. Fresh vocal talent, the Pony Chorus, and the Poniettes kept the performance running smoothly, while many comedy acts, such as the Amos and Andy number, provided opportunities for the audience to chuckle, laugh, or roll in the aisles. The Harmonizers filled in with some musical pieces, while other novel acts kept the show sparkling with originality and good entertainment. Directed by a planning committee headed by Mr. Raymond V. Hayward, all concerned with the production made an all-out effort to make the vaudeville show as excellent as it was.

VAUDEVILLE

The comedy Mother Is a Freshman was the 1950 presentation of the junior and senior classes. Two of the largest houses ever to see a class play witnessed the finest performance in many a year. Additional emphasis was placed on the play because of the fact that Life magazine was planning to feature it in an article which appeared in the March 12th issue. Marcia Kraft, portraying "Mother" did an unusually fine job. Anne Farquhar played her part excellently as Mother's excitable daughter, "Sue." Sue Graves, Diane Gulaker, Fay Carroll, Louise Kugler, Dotty Parker, Felicia Mezzacappa, and Diantha Lamb added femininity galore to the thickening plot. John Power as the young and handsome Professor Michaels won the hearts of the audience and of "Mother" as well, while John Rocray played the difficult part of the Dean most realistically. Tom Dee made his importance felt by all, even to "Sue" by the end of the play. Other supporting males were John Borden, Richard Joslin, and David Archibald, who were college men supreme.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PLAY

After being rehearsed almost daily since September, H. M. S. Pinafore, the first operetta presented by WHS students in many years, finally went behind the footlights on December 9th and 10th. Jointly directed by chorus leader Eleanor Anifantis, acting director Tom Morse, financial manager Ray Hayward, and dancing coach Helen Carroll, the cast, although somewhat jittery, put their best efforts into the production to make it a success. Dotty Brandt as Josephine performed admirably, while Dick Riga sang the part of her unworthy suitor. Ben Snyder as the vain lord of the Admiralty, Sir Joseph Porter, K.C.B., Dave Holdsworth as the captain, Andy Antippas as carpenter's mate, Pete Sharon as boatswain's mate, and Pat Carrol as Buttercup made the performance sparkling entertainment. Scene stealers Ed Hammond as Dick Deadeye and Phyl O'Neil as Hebe rocked the audience on occasion, while the choruses sang with gusto.

With a substantially larger membership than last year, the Athletic Association had a prosperous season. Many new ideas were put into effect to save the Association money. One was a concession at the football games which netted a profit. The A. A. also took over the publication of the football programs. By soliciting advertising and taking charge of retailing the brochures, the Association collected a greater amount than formerly. The A. A. sponsored several pep rallies at the beginning of the school year. Once again it also sponsored the ever popular All-Sports Banquet, which was held this year at the Wyman School. It also put on the big show of the year, the annual Vaudeville. President John Power and Faculty Manager G. Hartley Curtis were especially responsible for the success of the Association's ventures. John did much to arouse school spirit at pep rallies, while Mr. Curtis' careful management kept the teams well furnished with fine equipment.

The Varsity Club took its place as one of the more active school organizations this year. The club showed movies on Springfield College to all high school boys interested and then sponsored the excellent Springfield gym team exhibition on March 4th. This show provided a thrilling evening for all those who attended. In addition to sponsoring the team's appearance here, the club also provided over-night accommodations for the team members. Proceeds from the event will go to purchase helmets for next year's football team. At the March meeting Varsity Club members received their club emblems. These are black Indians mounted on a large felt background and worn with pride by their possessors. The moving force behind the organization is the staff of officers: Paul Amico, President; Dan Devlin, Vice-President; John Rocray, Secretary; and Tony Ciruso, Treasurer. Coach Knowlton has served admirably as Faculty Adviser.

No wins or losses are ever chalked up for the cheerleaders, but to these gals goes credit for many a Winchester win on court and gridiron. Whether backed by a crowded stadium or an empty bleacher, they are always in there plugging the team on to victory. Joan Wolsey and her retinue invented new cheers and revived old ones to boost spirits not only in the stands but at assemblies, too. In addition to their regular duties at the football games, the girls co-operated with the band at half-time. During the winter they managed, under their own steam, to attend every basketball game but the contest at Conway, New Hampshire, which they missed, due to unforeseen complications. To swell their ranks, the cheerleaders had as their mascot Sandy Wolsey, who showed herself an ardent Winchester backer.

Starting the 1949 gridiron season with but one experienced player, Captain Paul Amico, Coach Knowlton did remarkably well in grooming his material into a winning team. The Indians started out on the right foot with a victory over defending Class C Co-champion Milton, a new-comer to the Red and Black's schedule. Winchester avenged two previous defeats from Swampscott on the next outing, beating the North Shore Sculpins by the margin of three conversions. A strong Watertown eleven over-powered the Indians with an aerial attack; but the team got on the victory trail again, plowing through Winthrop, Stoneham, and Framingham. An aggressive, spirited Reading club upset the locals, and Belmont handed the team another loss. But Winchester came back at Wakefield with a fine offensive drive to win its sixth. In the annual Turkey Day encounter with traditional rival, Woburn, the season's most exciting game was witnessed. The final minutes saw Winchester's tying touchdown nullified because of a questionable penalty, and the Tanners won out by a 26-20 score. Captain Paul Amico led the team in scoring with 16 touchdowns. The final record was six wins and four losses.

"Are we going to win?" "Yes!" "Are we going to lose?" "No!" With these stirring words ringing in her ears, Captain Barbara Michelsen led the girls' hockey team through an undefeated season. Winchester won five and tied three games. The two best games were played at Lexington and Winsor, when Winchester knocked Lexington from the unbeaten ranks, defeating them 2-0 on their home field, and then traveled to Winsor and tied a strong team 1-1. Other teams to yield to the Red and Black were Stoneham, 3-2; Belmont, 1-0; Arlington, 2-1; and Melrose, 3-0. Winchester tied Malden, 0-0; first team was Bette Kneeland, followed by Marilyn Chase. Much credit must be given the defense, which remained unscored upon throughout the first four games and let the ball slip past them only six time the whole season. Coach Helen Carroll and managers Doris Casey, Anne Farquhar, and Sue Ordway were four more reasons why this year's team is one to be remembered.

Under the excellent guidance of Coach Thomas Morse, the harriers experienced the best cross country season in the history of Winchester High, placing fifth in Class B at the State Meet. The long-distance lads were undaunted throughout their five dual meets, winning against Everett Vocation, Woburn, Wellesley, Concord, and Revere by decisive scores, which proved the consistently strong brand of running shown by Winchester all season long. Competing against these same teams in the annual Divisional Meet, Winchester's harriers raced away with the championship. The second team also finished its dual-meet schedule undaunted and was crowned Pilgrim Division Champion for the second straight year. In the Middlesex League Meet at Tufts College, Winchester came in third. Co-captain Ken Blake broke the home course record set by Tom McGowan last year, while later in the season Co-captain Fisher Wolfe established a new record for the Winchester course with a faster time.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The 1950 feminine hoopsters finished a successful season by downing a strong Watertown sextette by a narrow margin. Five teams went down to defeat before this scrappy six while only three survived. Captain Marge Carroll, Pat McDermott, and Joan Wolsey were guards, while Marilyn Chase, Barbara Chase, and Jean Neiley played forward. Harris MacDonald and Bette Kneeland filled in excellently when called upon. Marilyn Chase was high scorer with a record breaking 136 points. The season's best game, in the estimation of the team and Coach Helen Carroll, was the Watertown-at-Winchester one. Trailing by three points going into the last quarter, the girls were determined to win and overtook Watertown in the final minutes, making the score 18-15. The second team, led by Mary Anne Damon, also did well, winning four and losing four. With the ending of the season, the team chose Jean Neiley for '50-'51 captain.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Winning 17 of its 22 games, the Sachems had one of Winchester High's finest basketball records in many years, finishing a strong second in the Middlesex League and just missing an invitation to the State Tournament at the Boston Garden. The thrilling over-time victory for Winchester in the final league game with Belmont might have given the Red and Black hoopsters a tie had they not lost heart breakers to Melrose and Reading previously. The courage and fighting spirit the team displayed in the competition all season is evidenced by the fact that in more than half their games the boys had to come from behind to win. Walt Murphy paced the team in scoring with 244 points, breaking Ken Donaghey's record. George Tansey was second, with Captain Denny Sanford, who also had the best foul shooting average, third. The second team, almost entirely composed of sophomores, made an impressive 12 and 7 record; with Coach Bartlett's masterful direction, the outlook for next year's quintet is bright, indeed!

Like a man without a woman, like a ship without a sail, is a hockey player without ice. Witness the 1950 hockey team. Deprived of ice during most of a balmy winter, the squad lived out the season largely on high hope and extraordinary enthusiasm. Fifty-two boys reported to Coach Ulin in December, a number which sifted down to an active squad of twenty-one. This squad, though it practiced hard and long when it could, was severely handicapped by its lack of ice, played only three games, losing once to an alumni group and twice to Wilmington High School. Captain Daniels, Leo Williams, Peter Redding, Sandy Burbank, Vic Griffiths and Carl Fiorenza were seniors who saw much service and will be sorely missed next year. But with veterans like Captain-elect Paul Carroll, Bill Rand, Don Bates, Gerry McLaughlin, Gerry MacNeill, Loyal Wright and Carl Zimmerman ready and eager to go, and with an even break from the weather, prospects for '51 look bright.

GOLF

Mourning the loss of its double threat, last year's co-captains, Bob and Bill Zirkel, the Golf Team has embarked upon what should prove to be an eventful year. Although the team lacks its power of the last few years, it nevertheless looks forward to a more successful season than last year's of two wins and eight losses. Under the able direction of Coach Otis "Hole-in-one" Leary, and under the leadership of Captain Ted Trott, the team hopes to build up a backlog of able players. Besides the two returning lettermen, there are many sophomores and, yes, freshmen who will be vying for the four open positions this year. As the Aberjona goes to press, the golf team, praying for clear, dry weather and the privilege of practicing daily on the Country Club course, packs its golf bags and golf ball finders and sets forth upon the links!

GIRLS' TENNIS

Noted for their excellent racketeering the girls' tennis team upheld their reputation by their performances this spring. Marilyn Chase's strong and steady game placed her in first position last year and she returned to captain this year's team. The other two veterans were juniors Jane Chiswell and Carol Hawkins. Manager for the season was Betsey Chilcott. For a welcome change, the home matches this year were played on the courts of the Winchester Country Club.

1st Row: C. Buracker, C. Hawkins, M. Chase, J. Chiswell, S. Morton;
2nd Row: H. MacDonald, E. Doten, C. Padelford, J. Meacham, M. Damon,
B. Langell; 3rd Row: F. Cullen, S. Davis, D. Lamb, G. Dyer, B. Chilcott.

BASEBALL

Members of the 1950 WHS baseball team, one of the most enthusiastic groups of players in recent years, although for the most part inexperienced, really showed great improvement as the season progressed. Starting practice in the last few days of March, the fellows really put their energies toward defending their Middlesex League title. With only three letterman, Captain George Daniels and Leo Williams touring the outfield, and John Power covering the hot corner, the team was bolstered by the hard-driving sophomores. The team showed its iridescent colors in the first game against a powerful Wakefield opponent, when it came from behind to defeat a team which had slugged out a 7-1 lead at the end of three innings of play. While sophomore hurler Stowell Symmes held the Fielders scoreless for the rest of the game, the team smashed the leather off the ball in a feverish attempt to win the ball game. Their fondest hopes being finally attained in the last of the ninth, the Winchester players left the field with the taste of an 8-7 victory in their mouths. Such has been the type of playing during this never-to-be-forgotten season.

1st Row: Coach Barlett, J. Callahan, A. Ciruso, G. Tansey, J. Power, G. Daniels, L. Williams, D. Joyce, T. Dee, P. Millett; 2nd Row: K. Sullivan, P. Carroll, E. Crowley, J. Dilorio, D. Sanford, S. Symmes, P. Keyes, C. Murphy, P. Coon, T. Gallagher; 3rd Row: F. Lawton, F. Mooney, D. Russo, G. Stevenson, J. Michelsen, R. Mackenzie, L. Wright, A. Regan, R. Rotundi, C. McLaughlin, E. Carrier.

The 1950 girls' softball team has leaped away to a fine start, winning two out of its first three games. Coach Elaine Miller has done an admirable job in putting together a team with only three remaining lettermen, most of it being made up of sophomores who should go on in the next two years to win more than their share of ball games. At the outset of the season the major problem was one of pitching because of the loss of last year's captain and star pitcher, Peg O'Leary. At this writing, however, Anna Fiorenza and Gretchen Daschbach have done very well and should improve with added experience. The rest of the infield includes Captain Marcia Kraft at third, Diane Greer at short, Bette Kneeland at second, Fran Oliver at first, and Barb Michelsen as catcher. The outfield is made up of Bugs Smith, Jan Collins, Lynne Stevens, Cynthia Wilson, and Gloria Pearson. This new team now has the needed early game experience. It has the spirit, good hitting, and pitching; it could go on to win all its remaining games, thereby equalling the excellent record of last year's veteran team.

1st Row: Coach Knowlton, R. Hicks, E. Hersey, E. Cullen, F. Wolfe, K. Blake, R. O'Brien, J. Richmond, D. Shiverick, R. Welch, B. Corthell, J. Caputo, J. Daschbach; 2nd Row: P. Leverette, R. Hussey, P. Sharon, E. Rotundi, L. Curtis, T. Wilder, R. McElhinney, D. Samoiloff, P. McGowan, J. Ciarcia, D. Miller, P. Gilberto, H. Hooper, G. Cox; 3rd Row: E. McElroy, F. Ives, J. Ackerman, W. Sipp, F. Corby, S. Walker, R. Brooks, R. Wickerson, R. Rush, D. Snow, D. Cameron, R. Murphy.

Having a hard working group of runners and field men, this season's track and field team has looked well in its meets throughout the season. Led by Co-captains Fisher Wolfe and Ken Blake, the entire squad revealed its driving will to win as it won a good share of the meets with other schools. Although missing many of the best runners on last year's squad, the track team, nevertheless, did remarkably well with those on hand. Practice began in the first days of April and continued almost daily until June, with the boys showing considerable improvement as the weeks passed by. The meets, full of tension for the runners, were at first regarded with apprehension by those new to the sport but were later taken in stride. The season closed with the State Meet, in which Winchester High participants did a creditable job.

School days at Winchester High are memorable ones. Besides finding knowledge and inspiration in the courses taken during four years, the student discovers himself having a good time and making an increasingly great amount of friends as he mounts the ladder. There are numerous clubs and other activities which appeal to many, but it is the "routine" that will bring back the most pleasant memories in years to come. Almost daily there is something new in and about school that makes the day-to-day sessions fresh and invigorating. As the seniors graduate, they leave with the knowledge that they have just passed through one of the best four year periods in their lives.

PICTURE CREDITS

The editors of the 1950 Aberjona are grateful to Sargent Studios for their close co-operation with the staff to make the bulk of the photographs. The editors took advantage of the generous offer of the publishers of Life Magazine to use some of Mr. Yale Joel's pictures of the class play. The remaining pictures were by Ben Snyder and Sergei Sorokin, assisted by Bill Maggio, Dick Singer, and John Donovan.
